PROGRAM	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Program – Fire safety in our historic homes. Jason Napier from the Bellingham Fire Department gave tips on how to be prepared for fires and other emergencies. It is important to have smoke detectors in every bedroom and in the hallway leading to the bedrooms, and to test them every month. Fire extinguishers come in a couple of different kinds, be sure to understand what each can be used for. Red extinguishers are multipurpose and can be used in electrical fires. White extinguishers are for grease fires. Shake up your extinguisher once a month so the powder doesn't cake at the bottom. To operate, pull the pin, aim, squeeze, and sweep back and forth across the fire. Jason provided two safety manuals, the Family Emergency Preparedness Plan and the Emergency Resource Guide, to attendees and he also advocated for the Map Your Neighborhood Program.
